Industrial Construction and Maintenance

About Carolinas AGC

Carolinas AGC has been the Carolinas construction organization of choice for 82 years. As the nation's largest chapter of the Associated General Contractors of America, we serve the total commercial and industrial construction industries:

General Contractors, Specialty Contractors, and Subcontractors, as well as Suppliers and Service Company members benefit from all of Carolinas AGC's programs, services and training programs.

We focus on the areas most critical to our 3400 members' success:

- Workforce Development—managing and training your workforce
- Profit Management—Protecting your profits
- Business Development—growing your revenues through workplace safety training through NCCER.

At Carolinas AGC, members of our workers' compensation program, Comp Trust AGC, reap the benefits of a self-administered fund and are able to offer their employees quality benefits.

Since 1920 Carolinas AGC has provided as wide a range of products and services to our North and South Carolina member firms as are found in most national associations. Based in Charlotte with 11 offices in the Carolinas, our professional staff of 65 is available anytime for individual assistance on questions and issues important to you as you build your business.

Industrial Construction and Maintenance

One of the many standing committees we have within Carolinas AGC is the Industrial Construction and Maintenance Committee. The purpose of this committee is to provide a forum where Carolinas AGC members involved in industrial maintenance and construction activities can meet to discuss problems and concerns of their industry and develop recommended programs and services to the Carolinas AGC Board of Directors.

The programs and services recommended will be designed to resolve problems and concerns facing the industry

Standard Agreement

Most recently the Industrial Construction and Maintenance Committee published a "Continuing Construction and Maintenance Agreement" which can be used as a service agreement between an owner and contractor. The members of the Committee are pleased to offer this agreement as the industry standard.

Members of Carolinas AGC can access and download this document by logging on the Carolinas AGC website at www.cagc.org and clicking on either the "Building or Highway Division" pages and clicking on "Industrial Contractors" located in the box titled "Inside This Section".
