

SAFETY TRAINING

Become a Certified Practical Examiner (CPE) for the new NCCER Crane Operator Certification!

Certification of Mobile Crane Operators through a Nationally Accredited Certification Program is here to stay, and will be required for every crane operator in North Carolina October 1, 2011! Complete this course, and if you have operators that have passed the written National Center for Construction Education and Research (NCCER) crane exams, you can administer the practical (hands on) exams to your own employees or others, on their own cranes, at your convenience.

CPE Certification Requirements

The following requirements must be met in order to become a Certified Practical Examiner:

- Must successfully complete this CPE Training Program
- Must successfully pass the written NCCER assessment for either telescopic or lattice boom crane (will be offered at later dates after this class, there is an additional $99 exam fee).
- Have at least four years experience or appropriate crane-related training/education.

CAGC is now offering the new NCCER Crane Operator exams due to many benefits compared to other crane operator certifications such as:

- ANSI Accredited certification will meet or exceed state and federal OSHA requirements.
- Written exams have longer 3-hour time limits.
- Use of basic non-programmable calculators is allowed during written exams.
- Written exams may be taken "on demand" at Carolinas AGC, a contractor's office.
- Scores for exams are available within 20 minutes upon completion.
